NORTH DANVILLE.
Woman's Home Missions.
The meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of St. Johnsbury district held at Hardwick, June 18, was a pleasant and profitable occasion. St. Johnsbury, St. Johnsbury Center, Walden, Cabot, Grotton and Hardwick auxiliaries and North Danville and West Barke churches were represented. The report of the conference treasurer showed that the society stands about $200 better than one year ago. Mrs. Bass, general organizer, reported 22 new members at Barton Landing and another auxiliary under way. The papers presented at the meeting were excellent. The addresses of Mrs. H. N. Turner on "Immigration Problem," of Miss Edith Smith on "The Barre Missions," of Miss Elizabeth Lewis on "Glimpses of our Work in San Francisco," were highly interesting and instructive. Mrs. Bass, in her evening address, held the close attention of her audience in spite of an electrical shower and consequent turning out of the light and delay in obtaining lamps. The organization of the district was effected with the following officers: Pres., Mrs. S. K. Huse, North Danville; vice pres., Mrs. F. W. Lewis, St. Johnsbury; cor. sec., Mrs. F. J. Cookrane, Wells River; rec. sec., Mrs. E. E. Batchelder, Hardwick; treas., Mrs. E. O. Thayer, Barre.

Death of Miss Ward.
The funeral of Miss Mary Eastman Ward, daughter of Samuel and Amanda Willard Ward, was held at the church here on Tuesday, June 25, the service being conducted by Rev. J. M. Frost of St. Johnsbury. She was born on May 2, 1843, and died on June 23, 1907. In early life she taught school in Sheffield, Vershire and Danville. Later she entered the Vermont Union office, where she was employed several years. Afterwards she devoted her time to literature, writing several poems, which were printed in the Vermont Union and the Vermont Chronicle. Miss Ward joined the church at an early age, and was active in temperance and missionary work.

SILGALENA

Lives to Prediction.
It is proving its worth every day and the prediction that the stock of this company will reach One Dollar before the first of the year is safely made.
Thousands of shares of this mining stock are selling daily on the Boston Curb. The stock is rising above 30 and for the past week has held steadily above that figure.
Clinton Gowdy, treasurer of the company, wired us last Friday as follows:
"Ore from David H. assays three thousand ounces silver per ton. John G. now producing carbonate with fine showing for rich ore in short distance from present workings."
Silgalena will pay dividends. To buy and hold the stock is good judgment. To buy and sell the stock on the advance is the move of the wise speculator. Order through your broker or direct of us.
